

Social Therapy: A performatory approach to human development

We live our lives in groups and yet psychology focuses primarily on the individual. In this workshop you will be introduced to a post-modern relational psychology that challenges the myth of the individual by creating environments where everyone can develop by creating the group.

Fall 2006 or ~~Spring 2007~~ ?

Nov, 1st 2006